

Determine how well your learning style and lifestyle will fit with the demands and expectations of attending an Executive MBA. Answer each question based on whether you agree or disagree with the statement. Assign points to each one based on the following scale:

1 point: I disagree strongly with this statement. 2 points: I disagree somewhat with this statement.
3 points: I agree somewhat with this statement. 4 points: I agree with this statement. 5 points: I strongly agree.

Score 1 to 5

Learning Style:

I consider myself to be a disciplined student. _____
 I was a disciplined student as an undergraduate. _____
 I do not procrastinate with school work. _____
 I prefer to work with others in a group or team. _____
 I actively participate in meetings. _____
 I rarely need assistance from teaching assistants. _____
 Section Subtotal _____

Impact on Employment:

I cannot afford to stop working and become a full time student. _____
 My preference is to remain employed while going to school. _____
 I generally don't have commitments during the weekend. _____
 My work schedule allows me time to meet with groups in the evening. _____
 I can count on my colleagues to cover for me when I am away from work. _____
 Section Subtotal _____

Family and other responsibilities:

I can manage being away from home on a consistent basis for the next two years. _____
 Being outside the country for extended periods of time is not a problem for me. _____
 My spouse is supportive of my academic endeavors. _____
 My absence will not affect the quality of my home life. _____
 Section Subtotal _____

Personality:

I have an outgoing and enthusiastic personality. _____
 I typically seek adventure and challenging experiences. _____
 I enjoy debating and engaging in discussions with people. _____
 When I have a project to complete, I meet the deadline. _____
 I am work well with others. _____
 I am disciplined and diligent both as a professional and as a student. _____
 I am able to motivate myself. _____
 I am able to focus my attention. _____
 I consider myself to be an organized person. _____
 I am able to manage my time efficiently. _____
 I consider myself to be patient both with my work and other people. _____
 I would like to attend an EMBA program. _____
 I express my ideas and opinions well to others. _____
 Section Subtotal _____

Total Score _____

If you have 27 - 54 Points: You may want to look into a part time MBA program.
 If you have 55 - 87 Points: Consider a full or part time MBA program.
 If you have 88+ Points: Consider yourself an EMBA candidate.

Keep in mind that this is a test to gauge how compatible your learning style, personality, and lifestyle might be with an EMBA program. Although the results shouldn't dissuade you from pursuing an MBA, the fact remains that the EMBA learning model isn't suitable for everyone and that alternatives learning models like a traditional MBA program is available. More information and "Ask the Expert" visit www.embaworld.com.